

ROOSEVELT HIGH SCHOOL DESIGN ADVISORY GROUP CHARTER

Mission

Portland Public Schools is committed to achieving quality work while completing construction projects on time and within budget. The use of this Design Advisory Group will be effective in ensuring that site-specific program needs are addressed and incorporated into each project.

Charge

The Design Advisory Group (DAG) will help Portland Public Schools ensure that stakeholder representatives of the Roosevelt school community have the opportunity to take part in the planning and design of school improvements and to stay current on the progress of construction.

The Chief Operating Officer for Portland Public Schools, in response to the need for school community involvement in the master planning of Roosevelt High School, will appoint members to a Design Advisory Group.

DAG members will be briefed by the District's Project Manager on the budget, schedule and general scope of work set by the Board of Education. The DAG will review PPS's Long Range Facilities Plan, educational specifications, master plans, and schematic and design development drawings.

While DAG members do not speak on behalf of nor do they represent the District, DAG members will work with PPS and the project management design team to provide input. DAG members will also help to organize and participate in community meetings during the master planning, schematic and design development processes, which may last up to 12 months.

DAG members will help to:

- Advise project management design team on characteristics unique to school community
- Help to synthesize community-wide input to design process
Assist staff and community with tours, public design events, public conversations with the contractor, groundbreaking and ribbon cutting
- Work together to provide input into planning and design, and learn about renovation and construction projects.

Ethics Policy

An ethics policy provides general guidelines for DAG members to follow in carrying out their roles. Not all ethical issues that DAG members face are covered in this Policy. However, this Policy captures some of the critical areas that help define ethical and professional conduct for DAG members. DAG members are expected to strictly adhere to the provisions of this Ethics Policy.
